Winnie Young Dutton

To Vincent,
Sorry we didn't win the elections a few weeks ago. → But don't let it get you down. As far as elections go I elect you as one of my best friends. (That doesn't help much does it?) Thanks for all the help in Math and Latin class. May God bless you in your future years. Hope we can get together often this summer. Best of Luck - Jon Spacher

Vince,
Can't say much only that you are a Faithful German
Mike Liedl

Vince,
To one of the nicest Germans I ever and ever will meet.
Good luck in the Future.
Tony '11
For you + me

Dear Vince,
It's been a pleasure having you as a classmate + friend. I hope you do well in the future + remember the days we had in Latin class. Have a good summer + stay out of trouble. Good luck in S.A.C. Pres.

Hi Vince:
Study hard and maybe
you can pass yourexams
It been fun to hear you argue for the honor and glory of grand old Germany this year.
Take it easy and watch
those girls this summer.
Good luck.
Ed A.

Well Vince, I can hardly & can hardly to bear waiting to Germany, but it's the least I'll since you're one I'll see you the school.
next year -
Lee Ya.
Good Luck -
Polly

Vinney,
Even though you don't like my clothes or my hair or anything else about me you are still okay.
I hope you haven't had too much bad luck with girls this year. Have a "hot" summer.
Bob "Bush Jacket"

Dear Vinney,
See I'm mocking you already.) This year has been the first time
I've had ~~the~~ a chance to get to know you.
It's been a real privilege (~~know~~ no kidding)
you are the ~~pillar~~ of logic are Class needs to make it perfect.

We live in an era of transformation. Institutions and practices seldom remain so for very long. Evidence of this transition can be found in the renewal of the Catholic Church today. As the Church is in a state of change so also are her seminaries. Last year marked the inauguration of a new system, the 4-4-4 program. This year we at Saint Andrew's have become aware of a marked change in the campus atmosphere, not only in structural format but also in the spirit of each one of us. Through these changes we are more vividly aware that the Lord is coming.

We'll have to get ~~together~~ this summer and I'll teach you how to play basketball (If I learn first.) From the little bit I know your parents you are really lucky. So ~~eat~~ appreciate it; many kids ~~are not~~ not half as lucky.

St. Andrew's Seminary

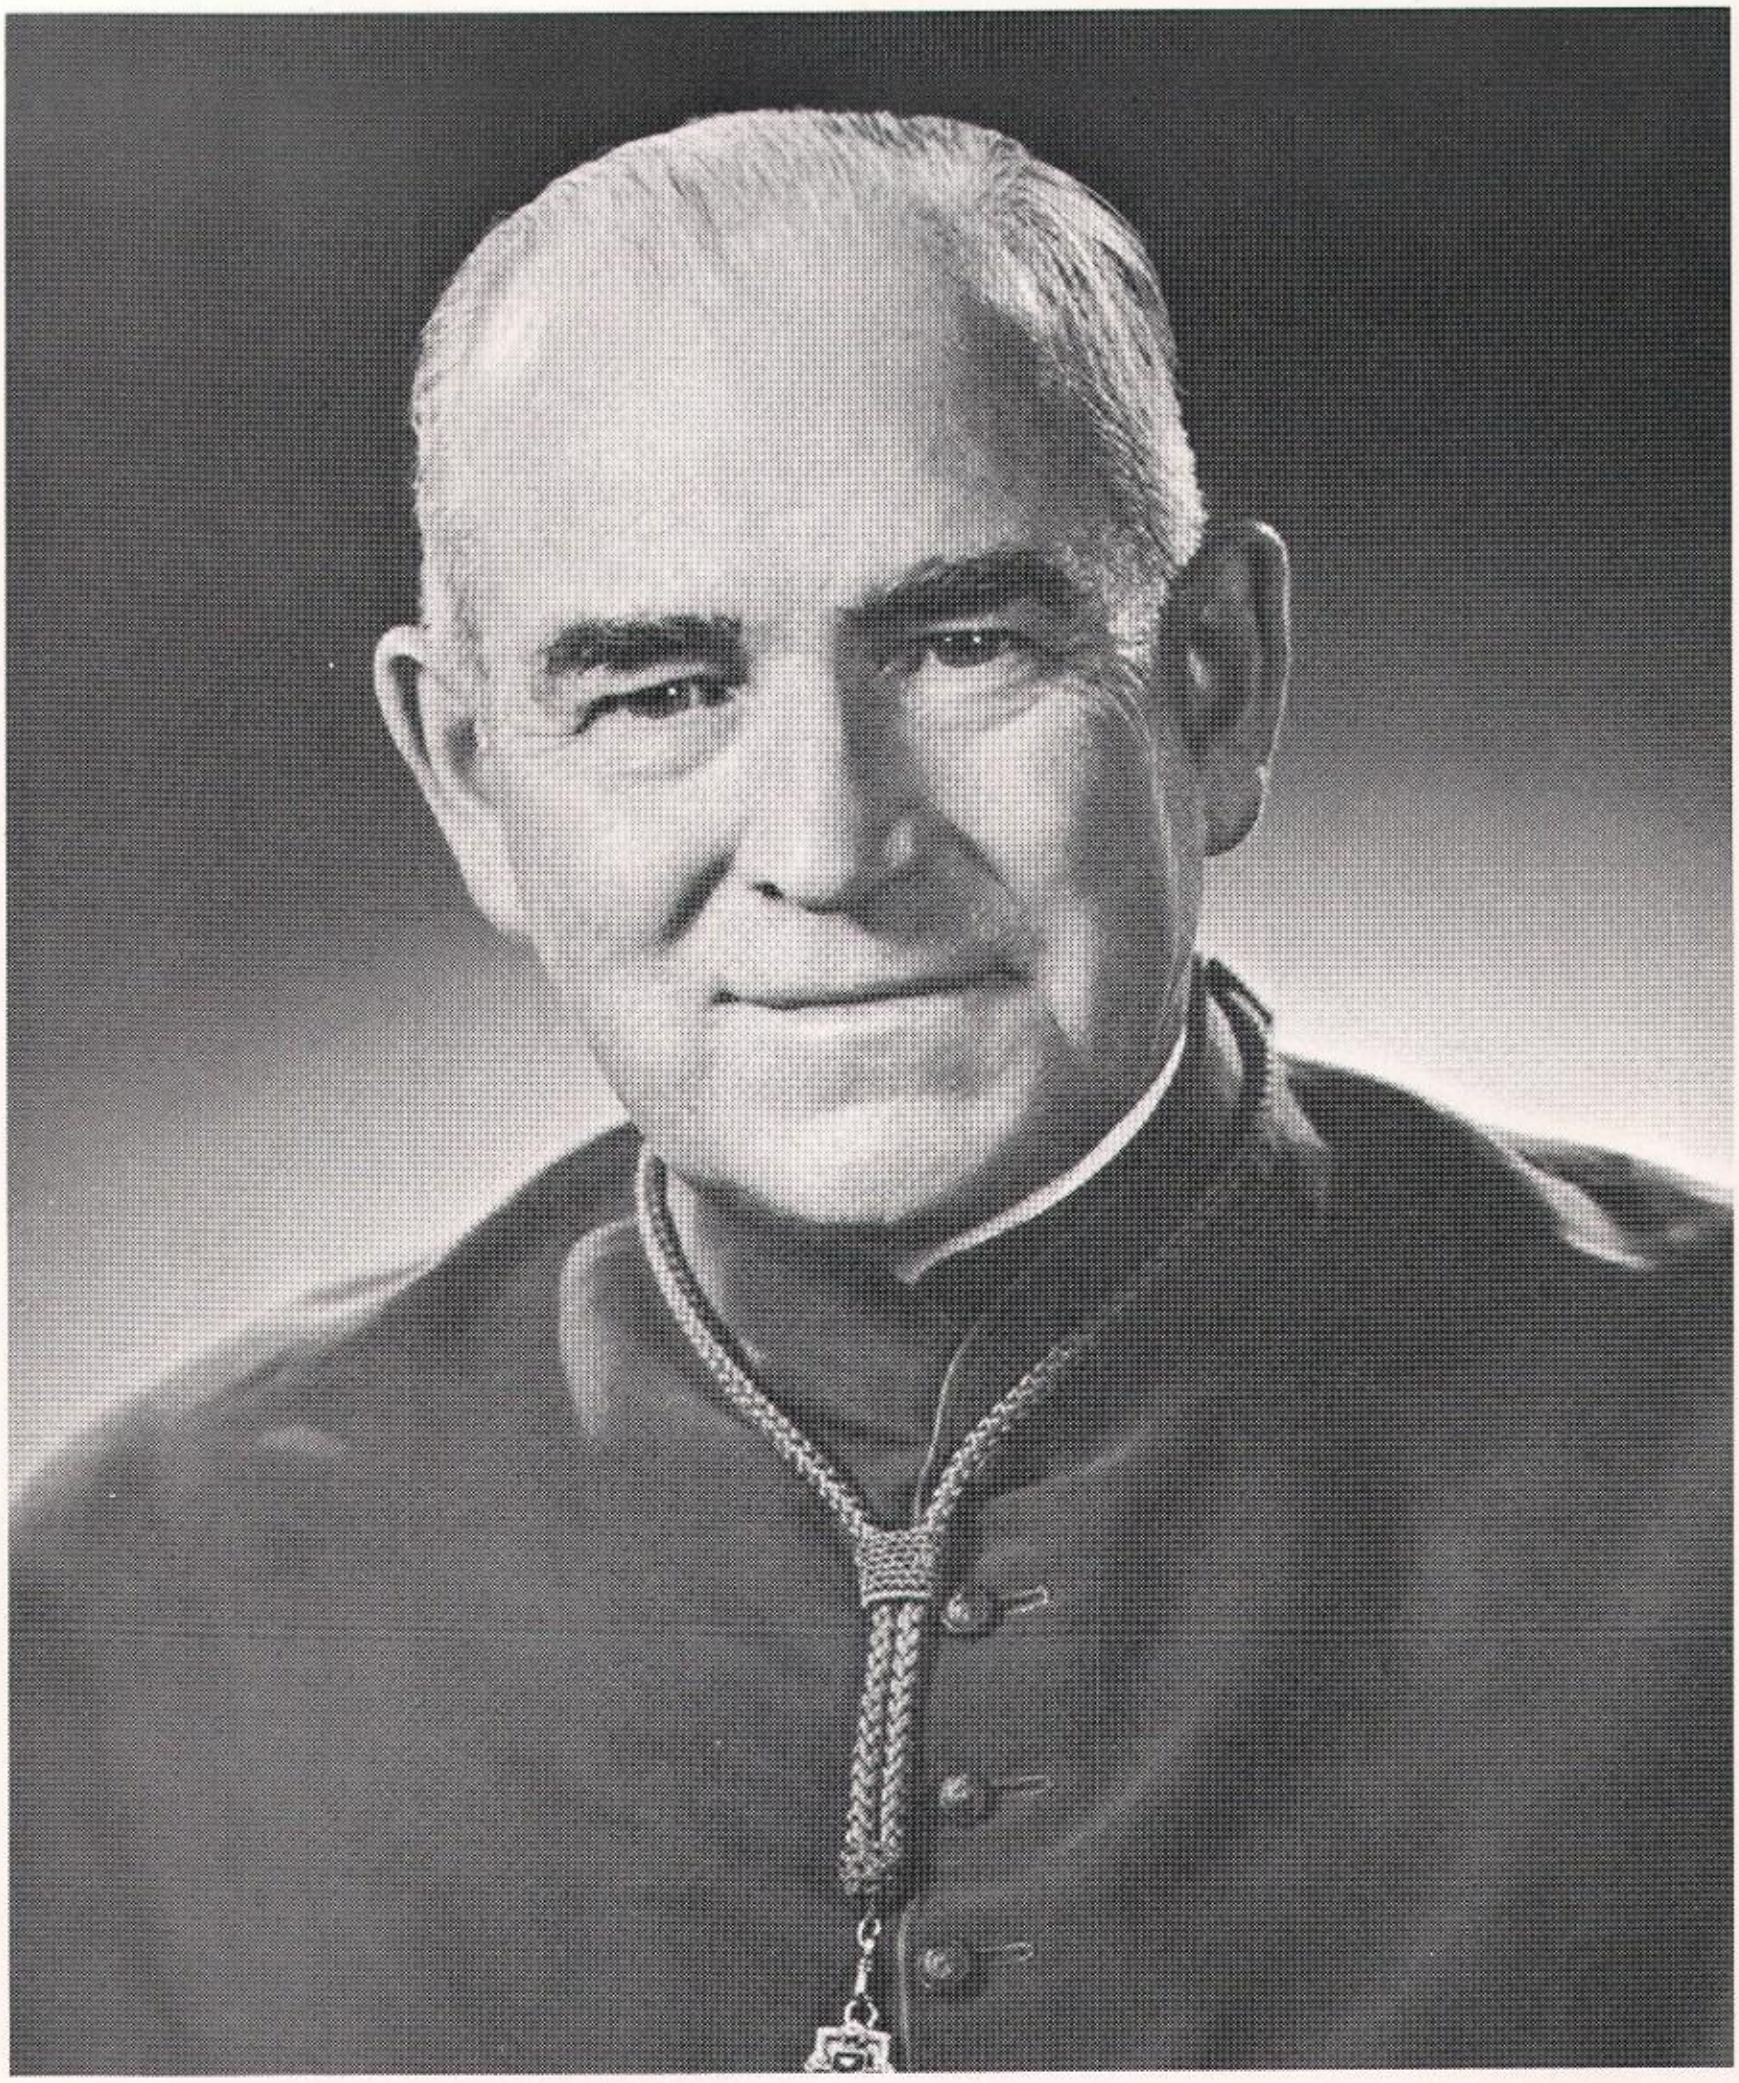
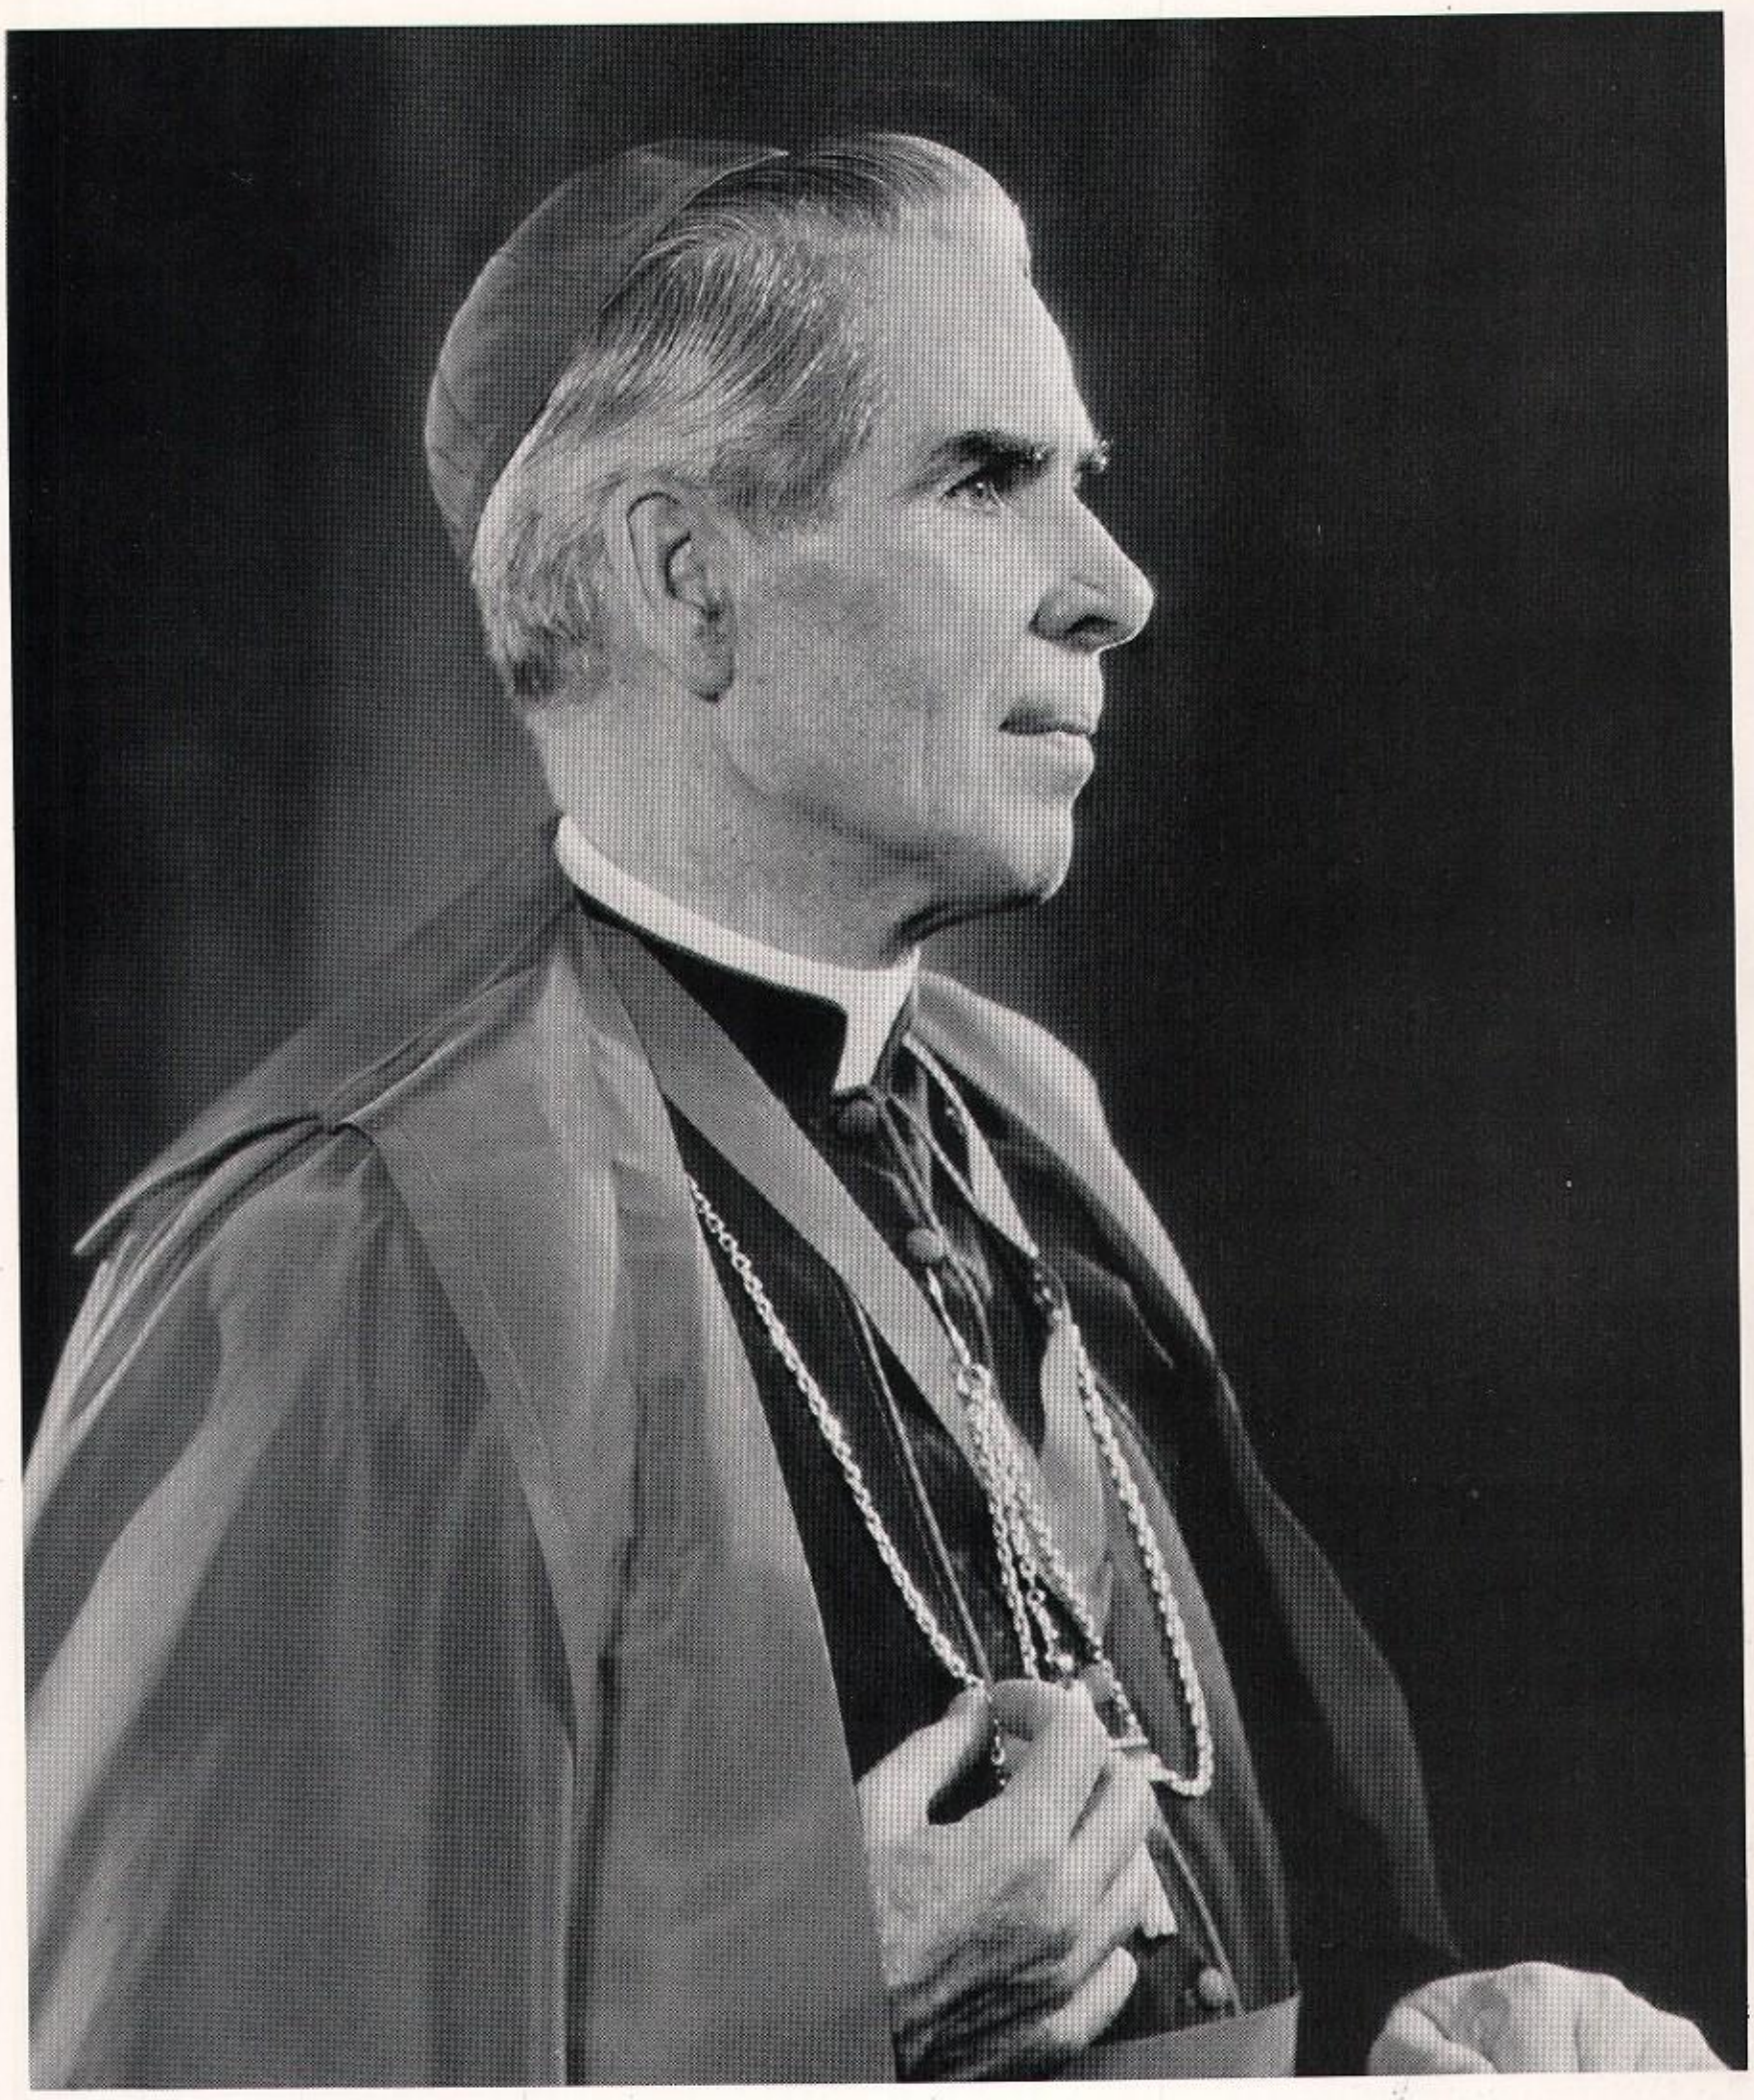
Vol. V



Dedication

To the Most Reverend James E. Kearney, D.D., whose years of faithful service and zeal for the cause of Catholic education have brought honor to our Alma Mater and inspiration for our achievements, we dedicate this volume of Maran Atha.

The Class of 1967



To the Most Reverend Fulton J. Sheen, our new Shepherd in Christ, our welcome and sincerest prayers.

Welcome

Indicative of change, Sister Joseph Mary is shown here teaching one of the freshman English classes. Sister is not only a new member of the faculty but also the first nun ever to teach in our seminary classrooms.

Vince,

You're a tremendous person and I wish I'd gotten to know you before. Losing ~~t~~ your friendship is one of the biggest regrets I have about leaving St. Andrew's. It's a shame we didn't get to know each other sooner. I think we could have been a great help to one another. This may sound silly, but it reminds me of something St. Augustine said, "[redacted] too late have I loved thee, too little have I known thee." I only wish I could help you with your discouragements like you have helped me. I think you tend to be discouraged by nature, just as I am. (whether you know it or not.) But it's a terrible way to ~~l~~ spend your life! We've both got to find something to live for, soon, or we'll wither and die. Something or someone to give yourself totally to without regrets. Then, then, will there be a meaning to life (I hope you don't think I'm being silly! I'm pretty sure you understand what I mean. Maybe I'm wrong, but I hope not!) Maybe you find me an elusive friend, I don't know. I make a secret confession to you, I'm often scared to get close to someone because of how much it hurts when the other person leaves or doesn't care. But it's the wrong way to be! Love has to entail suffering if it is to be perfect love. I find this more as I go along. It's just that sometimes we hurt so much... But I don't know why I'm telling you my problems. I should tell you you are one of the kindest, most intelligent kids I know and that you will be a success in whatever you try (Which is true!) But I think I'm paying you a bigger compliment by expecting you to understand what I've said above. Good luck always!

I'll miss you, Vince!

Steve

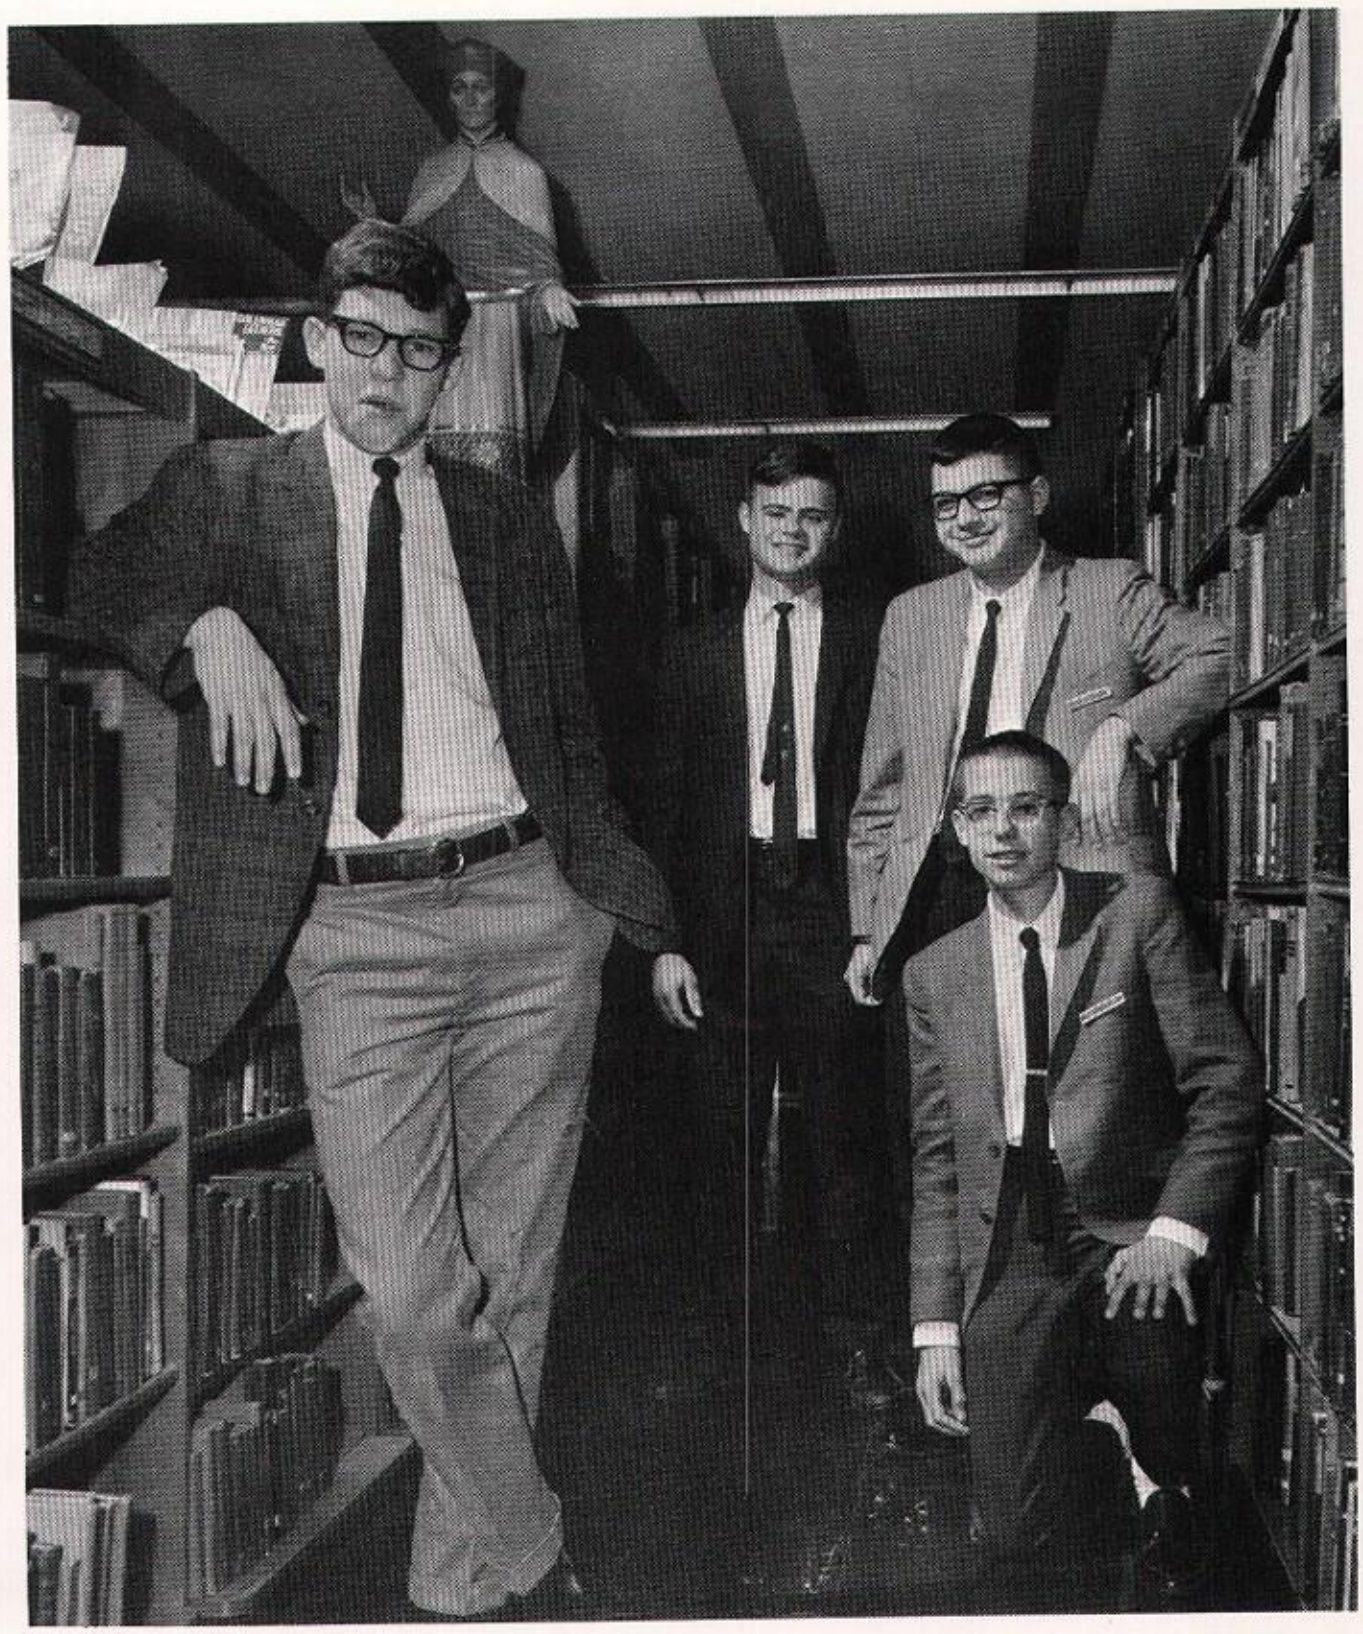
ACTIVITIES



Peter Burke, President; Gerard Callan, Secretary; Richard Ugino, Vice-President; Kevin O'Brien, Treasurer

Student Activities Council

The Student Activities Council is the agency at St. Andrew's that harmonizes its numerous and diverse extra-curricular functions. Each homeroom and club is officially represented in SAC, but the format of the meetings this year has evolved into a more personal arrangement that encourages every student to participate. Although the Council's primary purpose is to coordinate activities, it accomplishes far more than this. SAC can boast sponsorship of the Friday night movies and the overwhelmingly successful Gaudeamus and Mardi Gras. To enumerate SAC's achievements would be close to impossible, for most are now imbedded deep in the structure of school life.

S.A.C. REPRESENTATIVES: Jeff Gainey, Mark Hare, Tim Mulvaney, Joe DiSalvo, John Schraml, Steve Snell, Mike Maier, Bill Schreiber, Steve Payne, Chuck Malone, Bruce Fouquet, Jim Moynihan, Gerry Lynch, and Rick McAuliff.

S.A.C. President Pete Burke informs the representatives that the new entertainment committee will provide the student body with first rate movies.

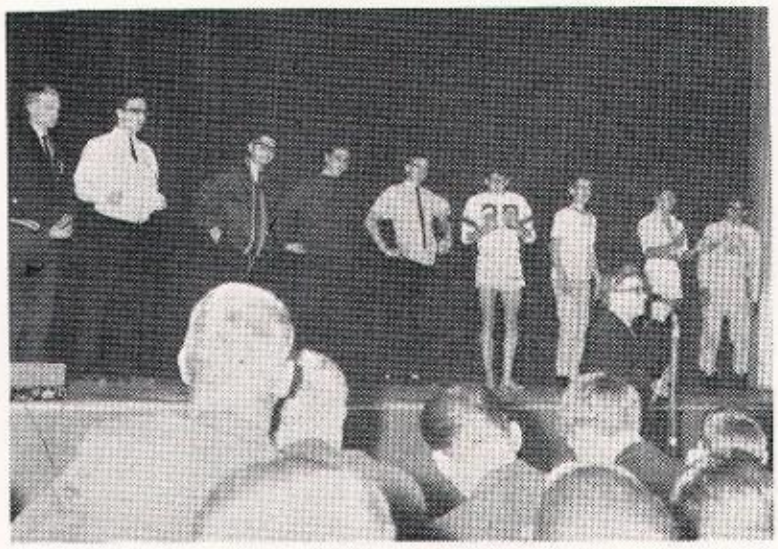
Mike Way and Greg Morey consult Pete Burke, S.A.C. President, about upcoming events which should be posted on the Activities Council calendar.

OFFICERS: Mark Hare, Sec.; Father Murley, Moderator; Bob Riley, Pres.; and Bernie Robson, Treas.

Mission Society

Bishop Fulton J. Sheen once said: "The missionary is never tired when he has someone to serve. The comfortable are tired at the thought of serving another." With thoughts such as this in mind true mission spirit is instilled in every student through the efforts of the Mission Society. As in past years money for mission endeavors has been raised by selling sportswear and Christmas cards. Additional money was raised this year from the profits of a candy machine, recently installed. The annual spring Mission day rounded out a successful year by allowing the students to enjoy a day of fun and games while at the same time providing the missions with much needed assistance.

Bob Buckert, chairman of the Mission Sportswear Sales, displays some of the merchandise.



The social event of the season was the Sportswear fashion show sponsored by the Mission Society.

Rick Weider attempts to remove his candy from the new candy machine.

Hustle for Christ

GROUP LEADERS: (Seated) M. Maier, Father Murphy, J. Firpo, P. Burke, R. Weider, J. Gainey. (Standing) E. Rabjohns, R. Riley, M. Temple, C. Ulrich, J. Callan, R. Ugino.

The members of Hustle, our new Student Apostolate, have this year led a number of social activities for the betterment of our community. The activities, based on practicing the works of mercy, ranged from teaching grammar school C.C.D. classes to visiting those in the County Home and Infirmary. Other activities include a Vocation Club, distributing food to needy families, and serving meals at the House of Hospitality. Hustle members participate in a Big Brother program and activities at St. Martin de Porres Center and St. Joseph's Villa. Sacristy duty and community "prayer" are also functions of this apostolic group.

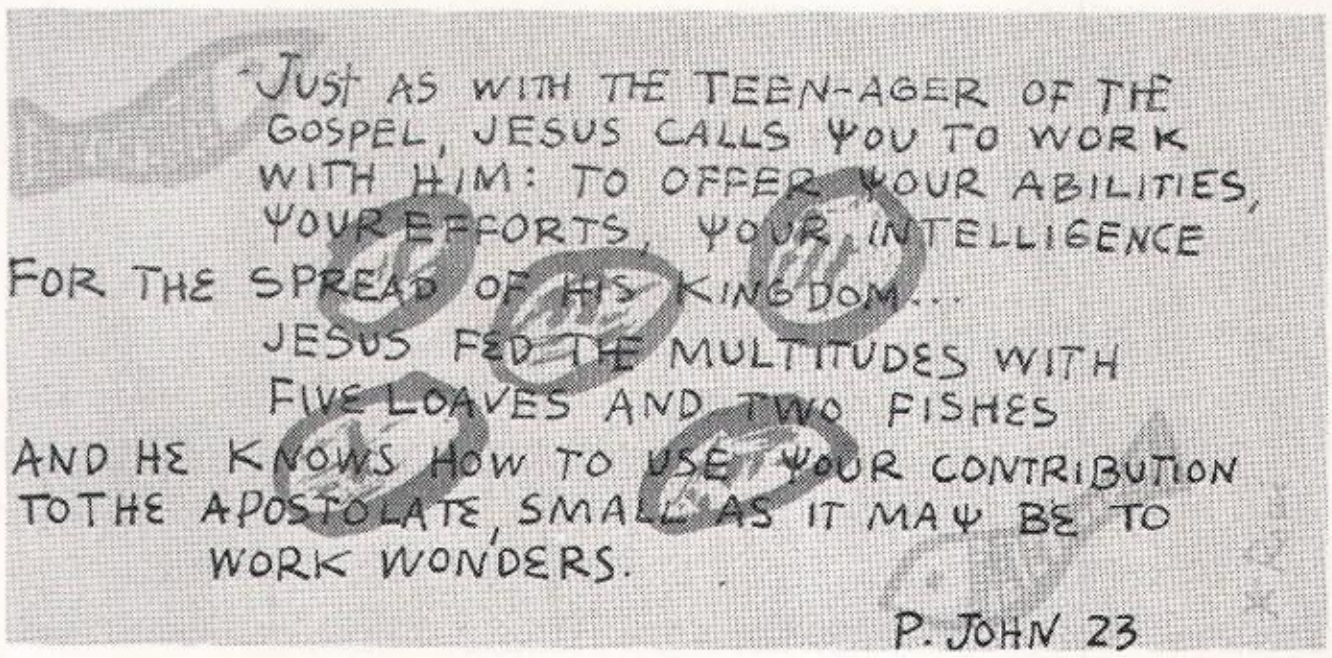
Father Murphy addresses the student body at a Hustle rally.



"JUST AS WITH THE TEEN-AGER OF THE GOSPEL, JESUS CALLS YOU TO WORK WITH HIM: TO OFFER YOUR ABILITIES, YOUR EFFORTS, YOUR INTELLIGENCE FOR THE SPREAD OF HIS KINGDOM...
JESUS FED THE MULTITUDES WITH FIVE LOAVES AND TWO FISHES AND HE KNOWS HOW TO USE YOUR CONTRIBUTION TO THE APOSTOLATE, SMALL AS IT MAY BE TO WORK WONDERS.
P. JOHN 23

Chemistry Club

OFFICERS: John Yockel, Dave Anselm, Father Gross, Chris Ullrich, Jon Spacher, Steve Mayer.

For the first time in school history a science club ranks among the major school activities. The Chemistry Club, moderated by Father Gross, was created to allow the chemistry student an opportunity to explore this field and thereby gain valuable knowledge and experience with complete enjoyment. Members have taken part in many exciting projects including a trip to the science center under construction at Brookwood.

Photography Club

The Photography Club, begun in the spring of last year, was formed in order to increase and foster an interest in photography around school. Group meetings in the school darkroom helped the members to understand picture developing and enlarging techniques. The club has plans for a tour of Eastman Kodak and a photo contest.

TORCH

ST. ANDREW'S SEMINARY

Eric Rabjohns and Mark Hare, editors, check over a new edition with the moderator, Father Gross.

Last year St. Andrew's lacked a school paper; so this year an attempt has been made to get the presses rolling. The Torch is somewhat different because it contains no news. The events the Torch prints are usually well known around school. The Torch, however, tries to present these events and more with a little extra flavor and humor. The present paper is actually an experiment to give its editor and crew a few ideas about putting out a paper for years to come. This year the Torch was lit; next year it hopes to give St. Andrew's more of its growing brightness.

Staff members Steve Payne, Matt Temple, and Jerry Callan prepare another issue of the Torch.

Booster Club

The Booster Club, the official noise-making contingent of the student body, has been responsible for a greater amount of cheering at basketball games and other school functions. A new club this year, the Booster Club was founded and sustained to promote school spirit and interest.

Debate Club

The Debate Club is one of the most important extracurricular activities since it offers both instruction in the art of public speaking and practical experience in the clash and argument of formal debate. It also serves as the clearing house for all forensic activity and helps to prepare nonmembers for participation in various area contests.

Hell Vince,
The year is almost over and I will truely hate to really see it end. You've been a great kid all year Vince and I'm really going to miss you. Stay tough over the summer and out of trouble! Your the one who made the year really great Vince. I'll never forget you even if I don't see you next year. By the way next year will really be different. I hope for the better King's Prep does sound better I think than Aquinas Institute and I hope it will be better. If Germany ever starts a World War again you will probably burn across the Atlantic and join them. Stay as you are now always Vince. And really thanks for every thing.

Your friend always Marty.

P.S. Good Luck Wherever you go next year. and think about your life.

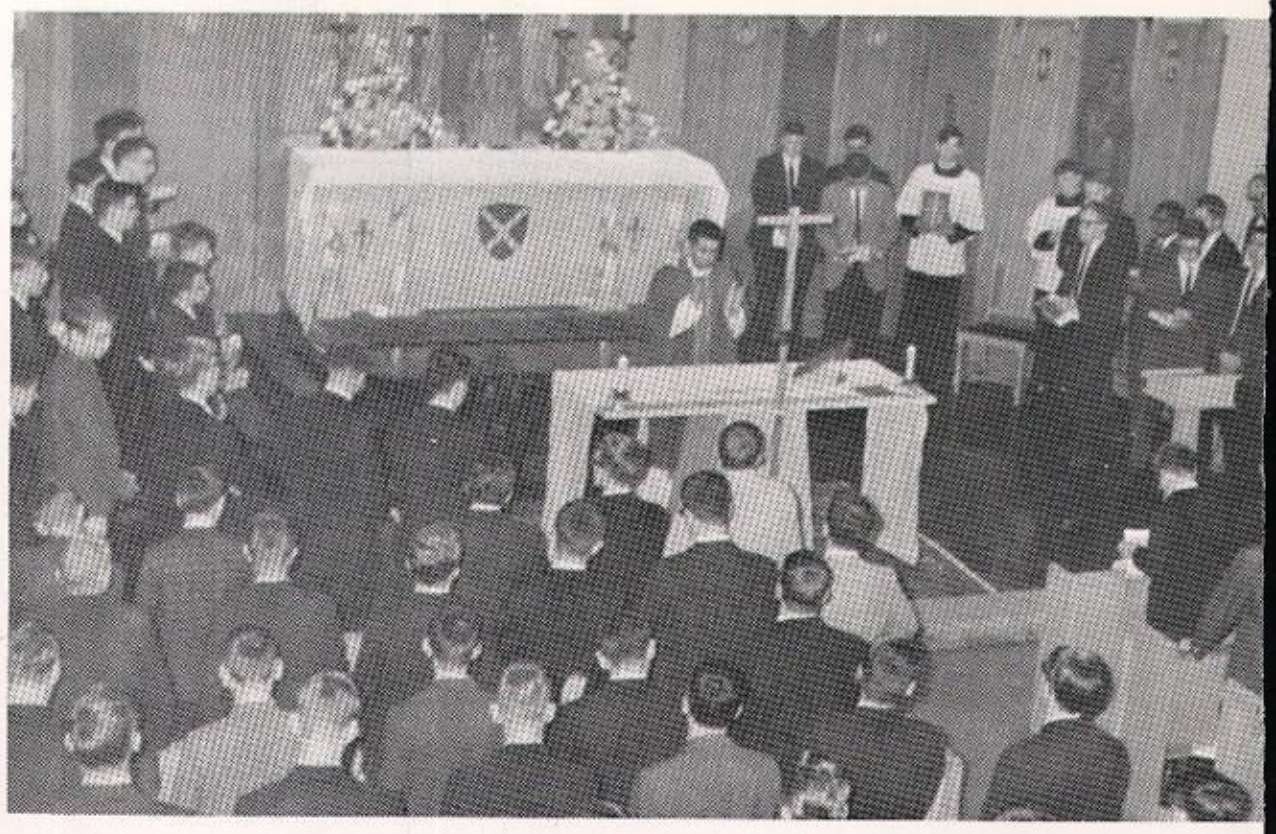
Retreat

Each year we enter into a period of spiritual concentration, our annual retreat. We set aside this time each year to regroup our forces and surge on in our spiritual struggle to advance toward the priesthood and God. This year's retreat was highlighted by a series of conferences guided by Father Volpe.



Father Volpe's Mass was a moving experience. The students gathered as close to the altar as possible to partake more fully.

Private prayer was, as always, an important part of the retreat.

Symbolic of the entire congregation, three of the students carry the gifts to the altar.

A special panel discussion.

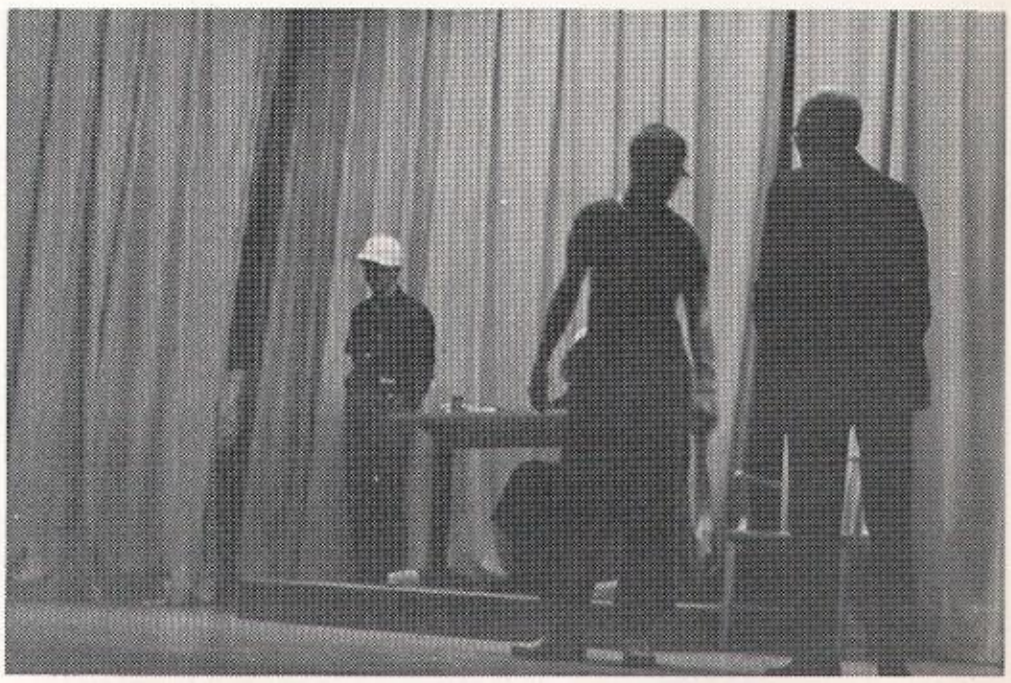
Senior discussion period moderated by Father Volpe.

Student Night

Rehearsing for Student Night—A St. Patrick's Day event

Steve Payne coordinated the skits for the night.

Mood music for the night was provided by Neil Ciminero on the piano and Mark Conheady on the violin.



A courtroom scene always goes over big.

Latin Exhibit

Each year the Latin club and the Latin students of the Seminary sponsor a Latin exhibit and contest. The students design and construct models and replicas depicting many aspects of Roman life. A new feature this year was a double contest; one a translation of excerpts of Patrick Henry's speech to the Virginia Convention in 1775 and the other a taped essay on the proposition "C. Julius Caesar was the Noblest Roman of Them All"

John Yockel constructs the rostrum.

Matt Temple and Carl Santangelo arrange their model for display.

Nick Francesco points out the Coliseum to Mike Ewanow and John Jehlen.

Jon Spacher and Dan Murphy stand behind their exhibit, which illustrates the techniques used by Romans in laying siege to a town.

Fr. Kenny, moderator of the exhibit, strikes a distinctively Roman pose.

Bob Riley plays the part of a Roman soldier.

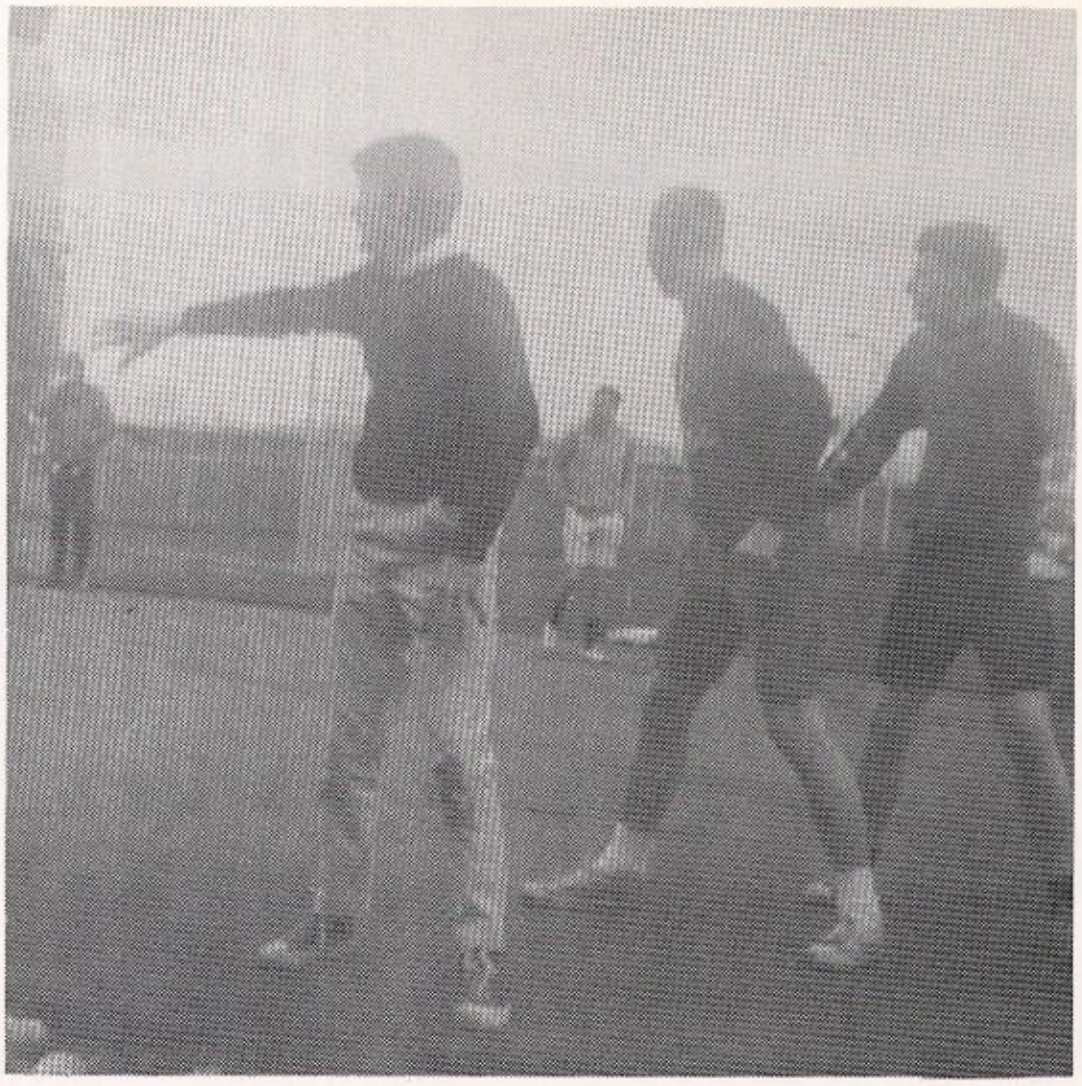
Mission Day

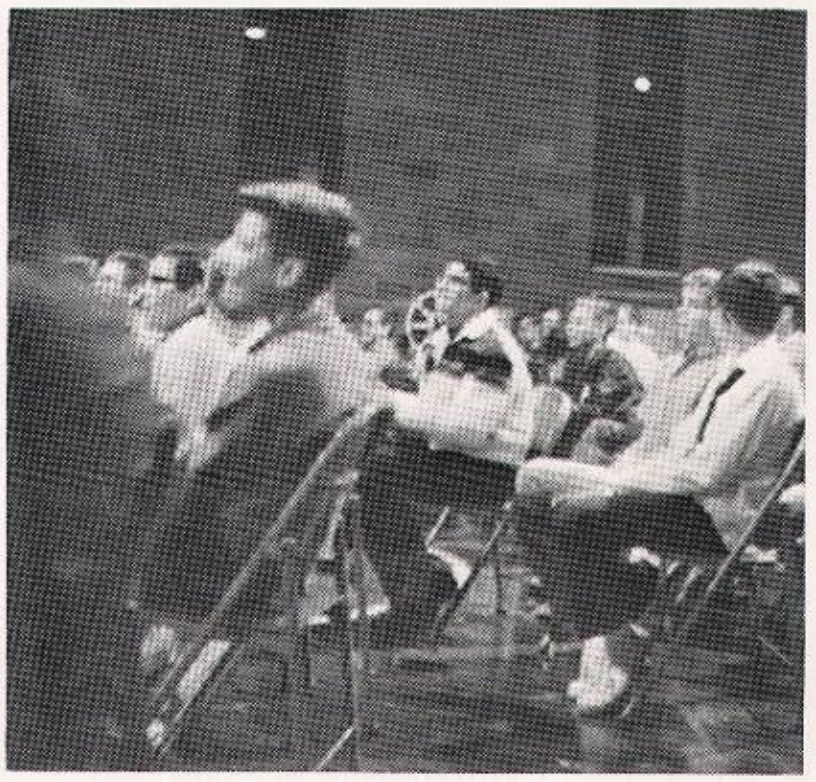
Mission Day, celebrated early in May, is the high point of the year for the Mission Society. The profits from this undertaking are sent to various alumni and friends in the mission fields.

The day began with a talk by a missionary priest, who discussed some of the aspects of his work. After this the booths were opened to the students until late in the afternoon. An auction followed the races and raffles. The day ended with a movie in the evening.



Three physically fit (cough!) harriers at the starting line of the Mission races.

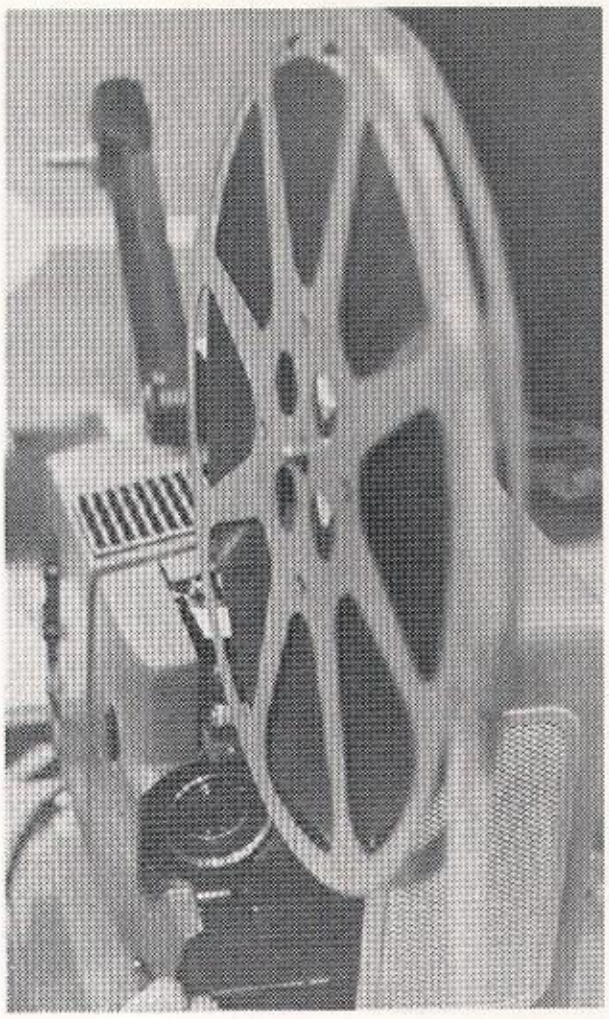
Father Halloran is thinking about his paper route which must get done no matter what tomorrow brings.



The crowd gazes in awe at the brand new invention, talking silent movies.

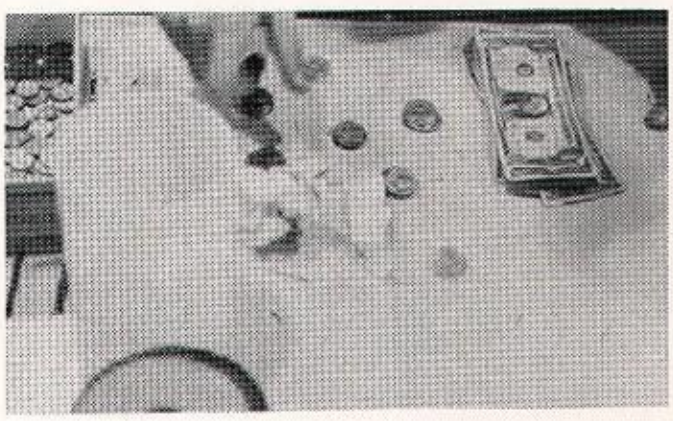
Four "smart" seminarians are dying to eat. Menu: Hots, pop, and Ice Cream.

S.A.C. Movies



As always, the projector got fouled up somehow.

Experienced mechanics prepared the film for showing.



Receipts were good for "Passage to Marseilles."

A sample of the crowds trying to get in to see "Moon Pilot." ???

A raffle drawing took place after the movie.

Gaudeamus

In the spirit of Halloween fun there is a night in the fall of the year on which each class presents one or two skits. This year there was a dinner preceding the festivities during which the faculty received pertinent awards. Patrons of the Cafe au Lait will doubtlessly remember the fun and merriment of that evening.

The Juniors, re-enacting an important faculty meeting.

The Third Year presents Green Pastures.

The Sophomores dramatize a classroom scene.

Pat Ryan provides the beat for some modern day hit songs.

The Freshmen act out a touching scene from "Jerk's Law."

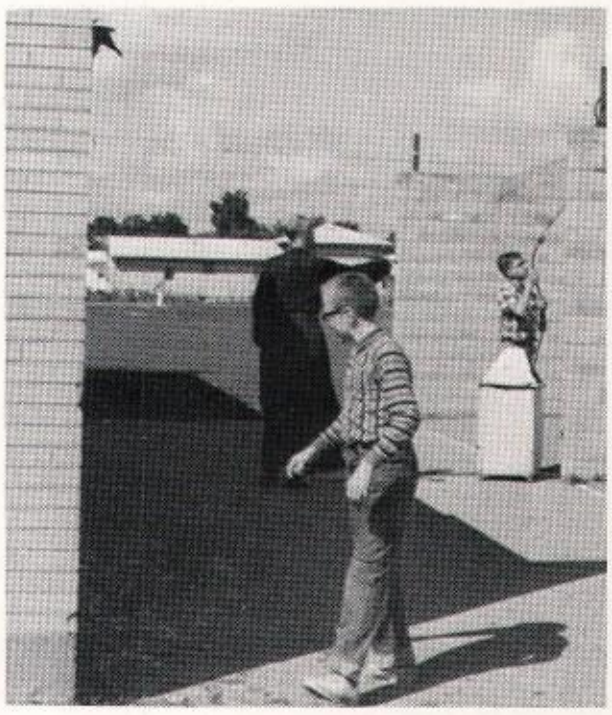
Orientation Day

At the beginning of each school year there is one day on which all the students can get together. The purpose of this day is to acquaint new students with the school and older students in an informal atmosphere. After community Mass, students break up into groups to take part in football games and races. Meanwhile the Seniors prepare the food. The whole day is sponsored by S.A.C.



"This beats rubber bands."

"If you think this is bad, you should've seen it on the way home."

"The Kaiser returns."

"Professor Veeder rides again."

"This bomb better work."

"The directions say it works like a window shade."

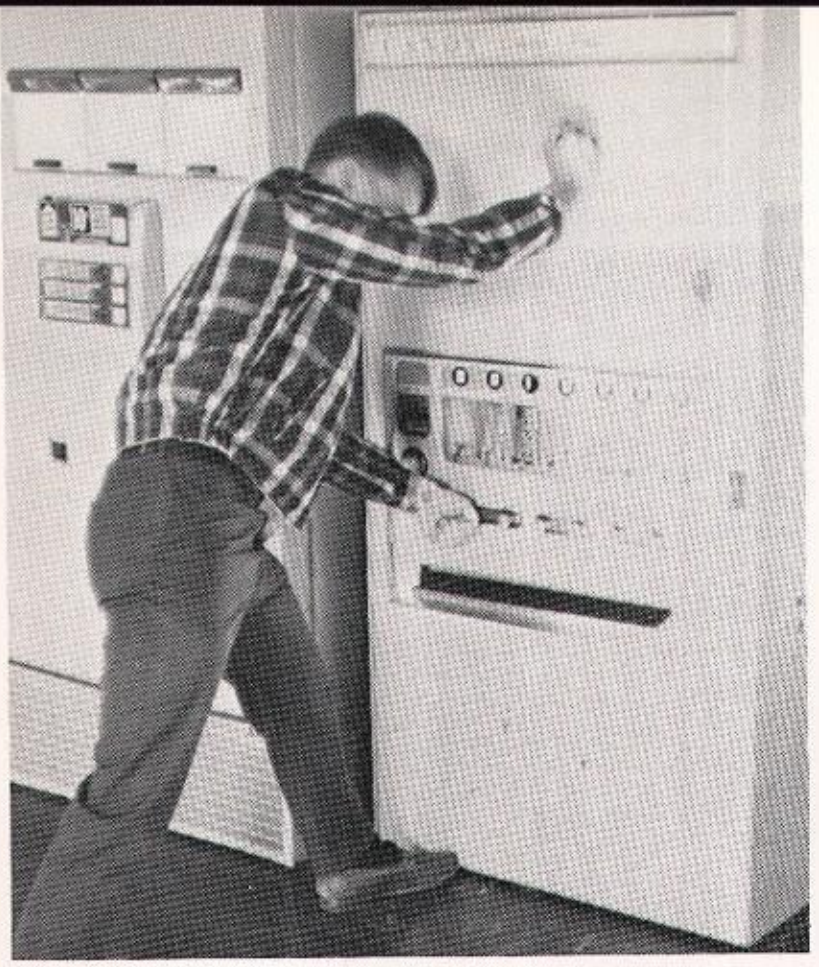
"And away we go!"

"My Locker? No, I live here."

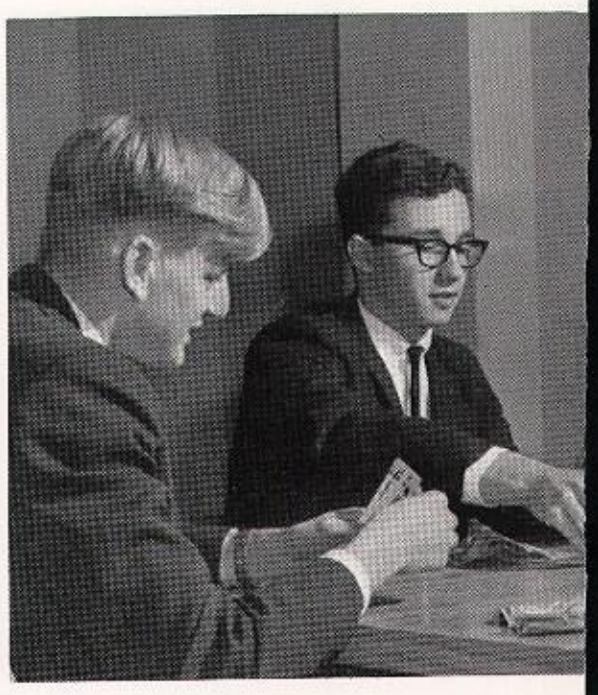
"The little drummer boy?"

"Yech!"

Campus Candids

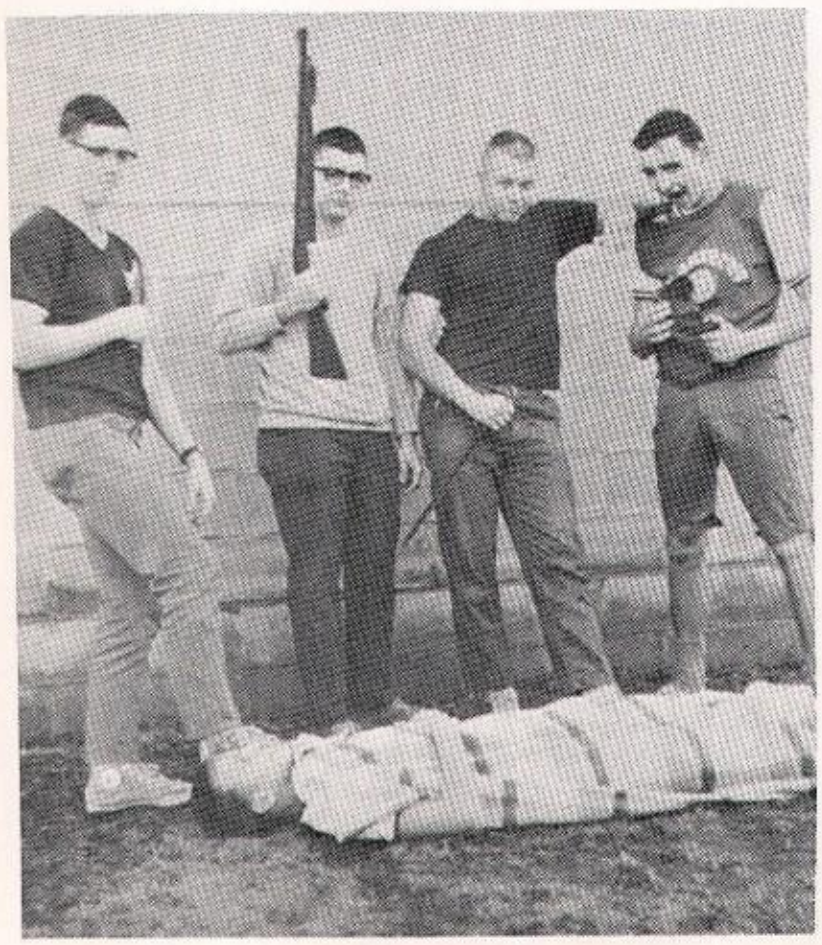


No, Rich, dollar bills don't work in vending machines.



Bernie Hartman leads trump during a gathering of euchre enthusiasts.

Bob Riley is getting some material for his "Uncle Buster" column during Glee Club practice.

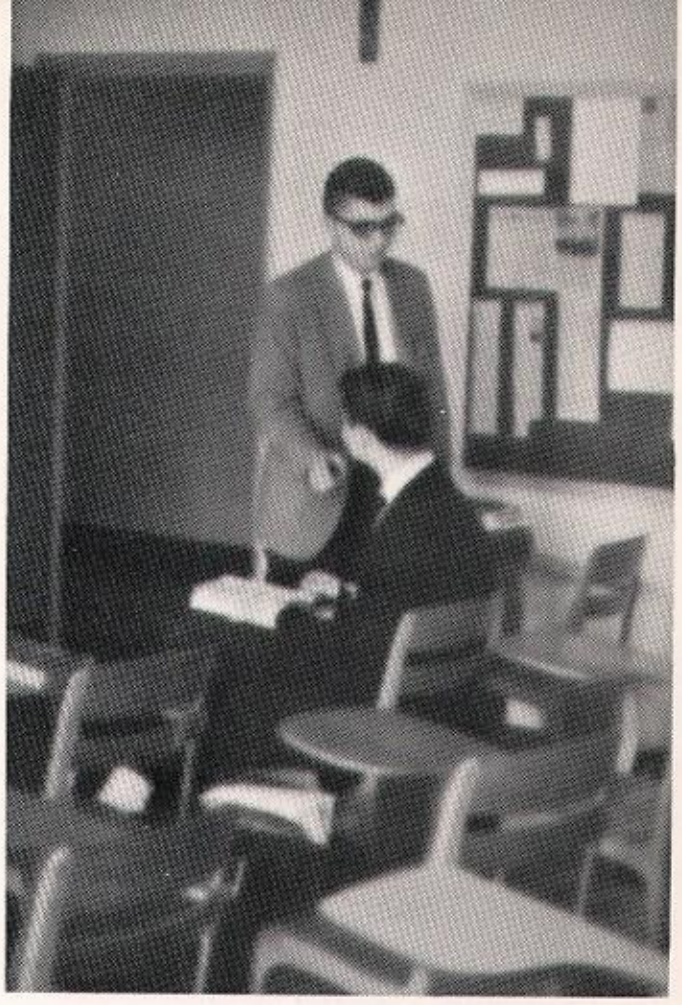


One of the more athletic clubs interrupts a meeting for a group shot.

"Not now Fred, they're taking my picture."

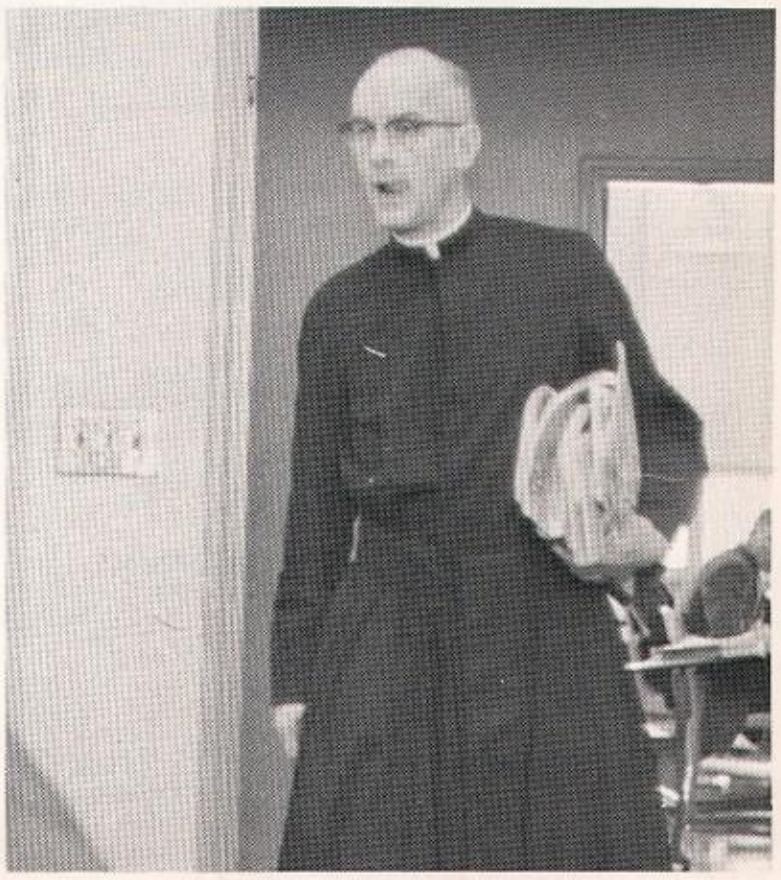
John Bovenzi gets his money's worth out of lunch.

No comment!



"Now look, Joe don't let me catch you studying again."

Msgr. Quinn enters French class on a test day.



Jutz,
I've been a great pal to me this past year. Good luck next year at King's and if you ever in Elmira, I live at 778 Pennsylvania Avenue. Keeps away from Mrs De Vico's (?) daughter and I hope to see you a couple times next year. I'd like to leave you in peace, so, "Truce?" "Truce"

O. K.

So long Jutz, and thanks for being so great to me.

EDUCATION—YOUR INVESTMENT IN THE FUTURE

Getting an education is one of the most important projects you'll ever tackle. In fact, the education you obtain now will help you throughout your life, no matter what type of work you choose or wherever you go.

Today, your education doesn't need to end when you leave high school or college. There are lifelong opportunities to learn: on-the-job training, adult education classes at night school, and special training programs sponsored by industry are only a few of the many means by which you can continue to improve yourself.

So, the opportunities to learn are there. But, it's up to you to make the best of them. Your education holds the key to the years ahead, and whatever investment you make in education will probably pay off in a better job and a brighter future.

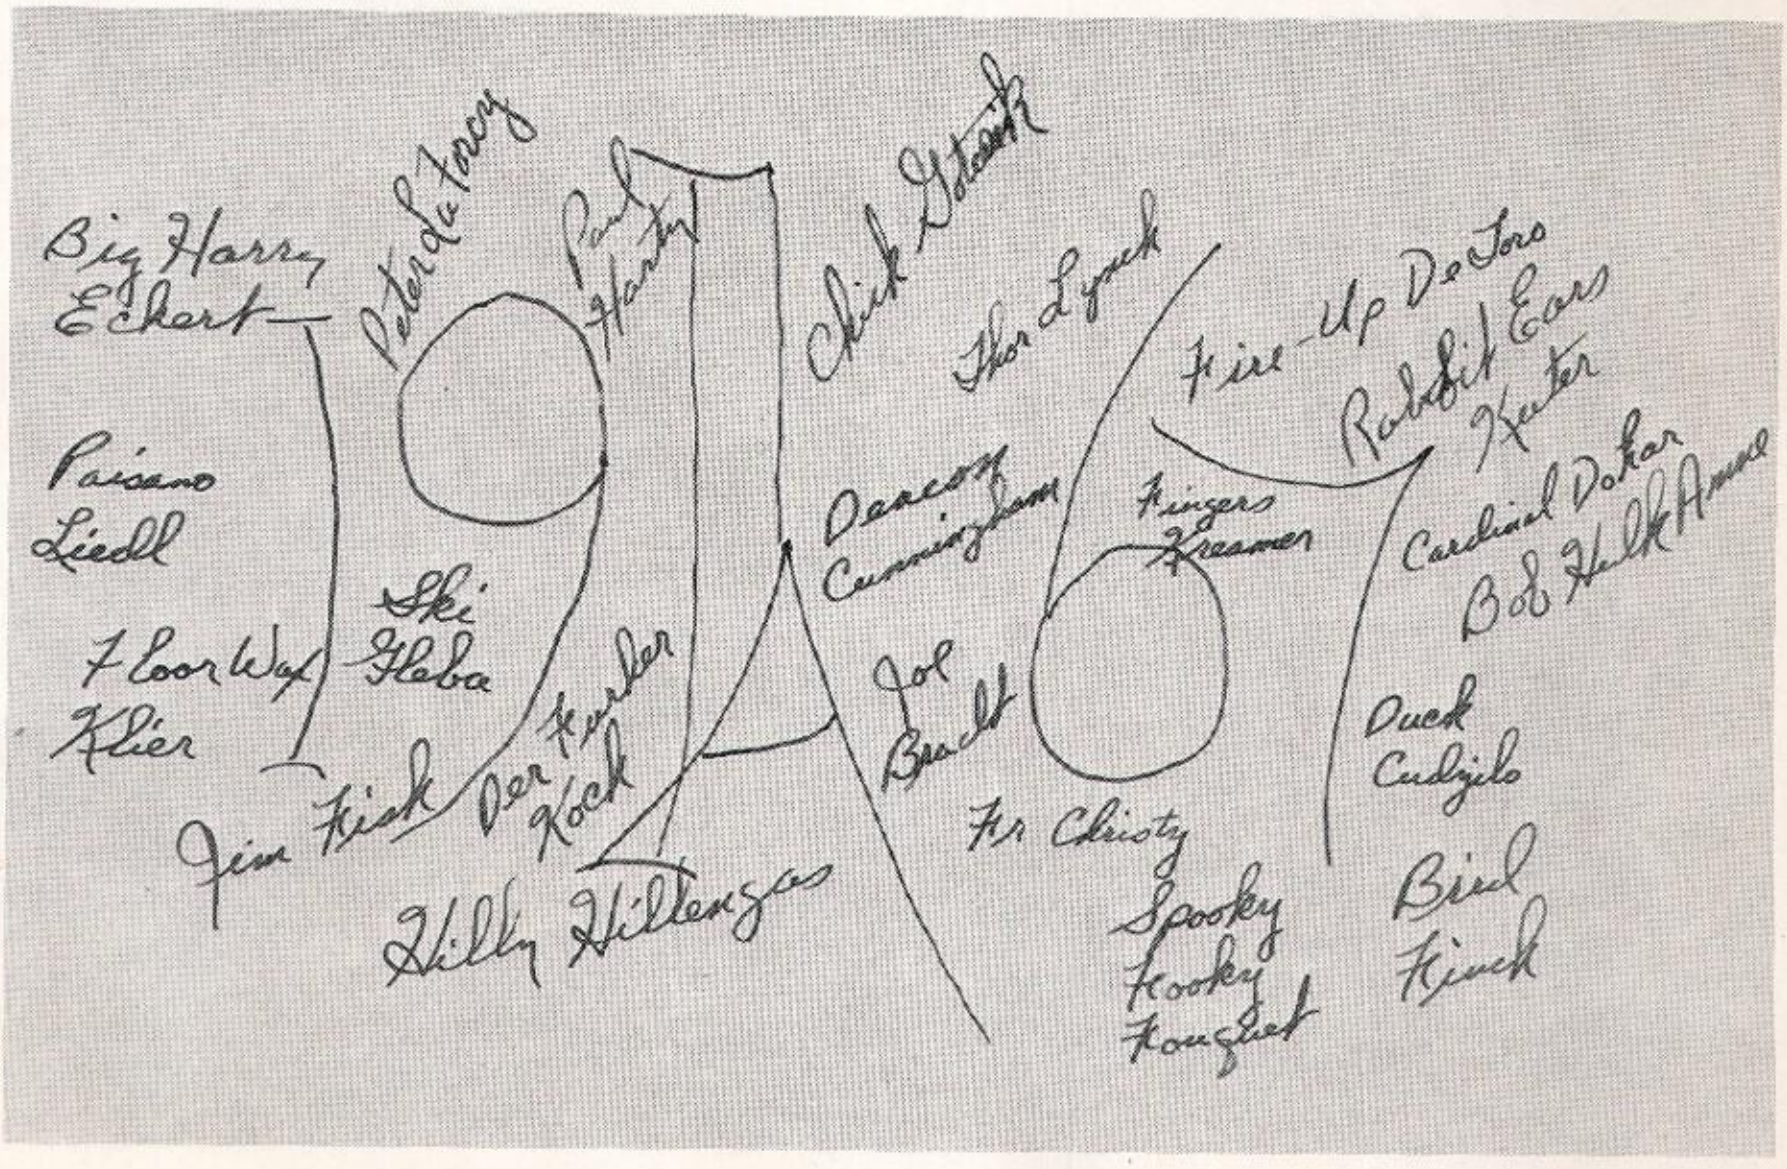
The Better Half of the Class of 1969



Ode to 3b

Dick Nordquist's love for the mystique;
Mike Scocik, and Robson's athletic physique.
Bartoszewicz', Huss' and Hughes' algebraic distress
That leaves them and us in a terrible mess.
Allocco's and Fennessy's Chemistry trials –
Unable to hear Fr. Gross for Bob Giles.
Santangelo's efforts at points with the prof,
Matt Temple's guitar playing, frequently off.
Morreall's witty answers, Vogt's sizeable nose,
Callan striking the organ with deadly blows.
McCarthy's and Firpo's and Kawiak's way,
The judo tricks shown off by strong-man Kyea.
Hare and Morone's love of laughter and joke,
And all the strange traits of the great 3b folk.
I'll never forget, and I'd like to say here,
That I'm proud I was one this past year.

STEVE PAYNE

Class of 1968

Vince -
Be sure to come and see me over the summer even if you have to ride your bike.
Have a great summer 'cause I know I will
Good luck for next year.
Bill

Vince -
It certainly was interesting staying over at your house. Good luck in algebra you'll need it! At least you're better off than Gotan Spacher. In fact you're better than Mr. Laudisi. You can add and subtract. You can speak better German than Fr. Hector

Vince!!!
I didn't really honour you our freshman year and when the guys said that Vince Bauman left, it didn't really affect me. But now that I've really gotten to know you, I don't see how we got along without you. So stay the way you are and well tackle the future of King's Prep. together. We've got a real great class, and if we work together we can make Bishop Sheen's plan work out.
Keep the Faith
Jim (Phantom Ring)

Dear Vincent,
Although I can't write this in German or converse with you, it has truly been a pleasure to have someone in my class who appreciates the German. I feel a comradeship with you as with no other person.
Thanks for coming and I wish you the best of luck. Walter Sigmund Reffermann

Vince -
"I get by with a little help from my friends
I get high with a little help from my friends"
Thanx for being one of them this year especially.
You really have to be a great person for someone to still be a friend of yours after you beat him in Religion, French, History, Latin, Algebra and English. I'm the "him" & you're the "you" & we're still good friends. I hope we stay that way for always - Terry Cullen

Vince.
It was nice of you to leave all this space to sign your yearbook. Unfortunately, there's not too many good things I can say about you. You're a terrific kid, the only really outstanding thing I've done this year. I'm humble enough to admit that I've learned a lot from you and I should be terrific with next year's class. You're like your leading guys Vince, Thanks for everything and I'm sure your cockney accent is infinitely more refined. As you can see, you're just an all-around wiz-kid. Stay that way as long as you're going "Basilian". Keep up the good work, Yunga!
Sigmund Heil
(Greg Nolle)

Since my year here has been a happy one. Thanks to you and your parents stay the way you are (you do pun) & a good guy from a better one Patrick O'Connell
